Legacy: West Fest Woodstock finds legendary Chambers Brother still rocking.

Rock and Roll still lives for legendary performer, Lester Chambers. An icon of the 1960's counter culture, Lester is a featured artist at the celebration of the 40th Anniversary of Woodstock.

NEW CD JUST RELEASED

*Lester Chambers has achieved over 4 decades of rock and roll fame from his early days with his brothers, to his new solo release "Do You Believe In Rock And Roll" just released on Explosive Records. Produced by Pride Hutchison and Lester, the album is strong, intense, soulful electric rock-and-roll and blues at it's best.

*Lester Chambers has maintained his true-to-the-roots dedication to rock and roll, gospel, blues and folk, Lester doesn't just play music, He lives it!

ROCK AND ROLL HISTORY TRIVIA

*Lester Chambers was the first performer to feature "the cowbell" in rock and roll, on the Chambers Brothers legendary hit, "Time Has Come Today".

LEGACY

*A new generation of Chambers, Lester's son Dylan, an extraordinarily talented artist in his 20's; continues the tradition of singing and playing the cowbell on his Dad's new album, "Do You Believe In Rock And Roll" as well as performing with him at the 2009 West Fest Woodstock festival.
